

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION AND HUMAN ECOLOGY

Office of the Dean

---

Dear colleagues,

To engage the broader EHE community in discussions about the budget, the college leadership team and I will be hosting three town hall style meetings next week. These in-person sessions are open to all college faculty and staff. The purpose of these meetings is to provide updates and clarify guidelines related to the budget and fiscal controls and share work that is underway to secure the college's fiscal health. Faculty and staff affiliated with administrative units or centers should attend a session that fits their responsibilities and availability. No prior registration is required.

EHE Town Hall meetings

Department of Human Sciences

Date: Tue, Dec. 12, 12:30-1:30 p.m.

Location: Curl Market (80 W Woodruff Ave), 2nd Floor

Department of Teaching and Learning

Date: Wed, Dec. 13, 2-3 p.m.

Location: 274 Arps

Department of Educational Studies

Date: Thu, Dec. 14, 3-4 p.m.

Location: Curl Market (80 W Woodruff Ave), 2nd Floor

I understand the impact that budget reductions are having on our academic departments and administrative units. Although the fiscal controls will remain in place through June 30, 2024, we also will continue planning for the growth and vitality of our college. To that end, we will make strategic investments in academic initiatives aligned to college and departmental priorities. Early next semester, I will share a new opportunity (funded through non-general revenue/GFA sources) for faculty and staff to propose ideas designed to advance our academic enterprise, boost enrollment and support student success. More information will be shared once the details for this initiative are finalized.

Thank you for your ongoing commitment to our college. We appreciate all that you do to support our mission and vision.

Be well,

Don Pope-Davis, PhD
Dean
