

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION AND HUMAN ECOLOGY

Office of the Dean

Dear colleagues,

We are continuing our efforts to meet the college's budgetary goals for the current fiscal year, plan for more sustainable fiscal changes and provide updates to the EHE community. To support those efforts and respond to your requests for more detailed information, we have updated the FY24 fiscal guidelines. The updated guidelines clarify the parameters for business travel and discretionary spending. If you have specific questions or need further assistance, please work with the finance officers in your respective units.

In October, I announced the formation of the Academic Review Committee, a collegewide group charged with developing a process to guide the review of the college's academic programs. The committee's initial task will focus on assessing the financial health and sustainability of our programs. The Academic Review Committee will meet Jan. 29. Please refer to the previously shared list via the above link for the full slate of committee members.

Thank you for your engagement in the ongoing success of our college.

Don Pope-Davis, PhD

Dean
